82 UPLANDERS IN RELIEF WORK WITH FUTURE BRIGHTER

500 Men From West End Communities Given Employment in Canyons

NEW PROGRAM STARTED

Local Improvements Planned to Provide Work for Uplanders

Five hundred men are today working in the San Antonio and Cucamonga canyons in the current re-employment program. Eighty-two of the men are from Upland, this being the city's quota under the civil works program. Others working on the local project are from Ontario, Cucamonga and other communities in the west end of San Bernardino county.

Placing the men on other projects, such as widening and grading Sixteenth and Twenth-second streets and other local improvements is expected within a short time.

What is being done in Upland to relieve unemployment is also being done in every community in the county and in Southern California with the result that the unemployment situation is being greatly relieved.

In a meeting in San Bernardino today, definite plans were to be made concerning the future projects for Upland and other communities. Assurance has been given that federal funds will be provided to continue the present relief program until early in February.

Under the direction of Avery S. Allen, chamber of commerce and civic association secretary, men are being placed on the project. The chamber office this week has been the center of the city's greatest avtivity. Scores of men have been waiting there for a call to join the ranks of the workers.

Only local residents with dependents are given work. Only those who were actively on the unemployment relief list up to 30 days ago are being considered. Persons registering for work in the last month will be given consideration as additional funds and work are provided.

Coming at this time the federal works project assures the 82 local families of sufficient income during the holiday and winter season, and more than 4000 men in the county of a livelihood. Without the local chamber organization and the county-wide committee, this immediate operation of the relief program could not be realized.

With the coming of the citrus harvesting season soon and with the likelihood of orchard heating in the coming weeks the local unemployment relief program is well in hand.

HORSESHOE FANS MAY GET PRIZES

City Prepares for Recreational Center—Lions Club Offers Awards

For the first time in recent years, the city has a recreational center for those who care to participate in the old-time sport of tossing horse shoes.

And to inspire interest in the event, the Upland Lions club today informally offered two prizes to go to the best horse shoe throwers in the district.

Details for the contest that will result in the prizes being given have not been completed.

A strip of lawn adjacent to the east side of the Upland fire hall in the D street park is to be converted into a horse shoe throwing court, with a sufficient number of stakes being placed. Benches have been provided for those who congregate.

Details of a proposed tournament and the awarding of prizes will be announced in The News either Friday of this week or next Tuesday.

The recreational center was established by the city at the suggestion of the Upland chamber of commerce and civic association. This will be a meeting place for those who have the time to play and to mingle.

Two in Hospital As Cars in Collision

Maurice Sullivan, local youth, and Mrs. Emma Shafer, Huntington Park, are in the San Antonio Community hospital as the result of an accident on Arrow highway and Baker avenue yesterday afternoon.

Alvin Musser, driver of a milk truck on which Sullivan was riding, failed to stop at the boulevard sign as he was going south on Baker, according to police records. The machine struck the car in which Mrs. Shafer was a passenger.

The injured are not seriously hurt, suffering principally from shock, according to reports at the hospital.

THANKSGIVING IS THEME OF ROTARY

Life of John Howard Payne Used to Illustrate Talk by Dr. Bert Foster

The spirit of Thanksgiving season was evident in the meeting of the Upland Rotary club today noon, at which time Dr. Bert Foster, rector of St. Mark's Episcopal church, gave one of his customary inspirational and spiritual addresses. Taking the life of John Howard Payne, author of the immortal song, "Home, Sweet Home," as an example, Dr. Foster brought out the thought that often those who do not have the luxuries of life are often more appreciative of what they mean than those who are surrounded by them. For instance, the author of that song never had a luxurious home, yet "Home, Sweet Home" was dear to him. Those who have homes too often do not appreciate them as those who have none, said the speaker.

Noting the fall of nations when they lose sight of God and right living, Dr. Foster laid their downfall to that cause. Nations become too prosperous and too reliant upon themselves and thus deteriorate in their spiritual and moral life.

In times like the present we learn to appreciate what we have more than in times of prosperity. A greater love for spiritual things and for home is the greatest essential to the return of better times.

Secretary Wm. Avery announced that Harry W. Birdie, regional representative of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, representing the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, will address the club on Dec. 12. This is expected to be an unusually interesting address and members of clubs in the surrounding territory are invited to be present.

A. G. McCrea Rites Held in Ontario

Funeral services were held yesterday for A. G. McCrea, Chaffey high school graduate and prominent San Bernardino business man, who failed to rally following an accident a week ago today. He died Saturday noon.

Mr. McCrea was the son of Mrs. G. A. McCrea, Ontario, and was widely known here due to his long residence in the Chaffey district. He was injured while playing polo, his horse stumbling, sending him to the ground. He failed to regain consciousness.

Services were held in the Ontario Methodist church at 3 p. m. yesterday, with J. B. Draper & Co. in charge.

CITY YULETIDE PROGRAM TO BE HELD ON DEC. 11

All Singing Organizations Here To Unite Under Archie Moore

GIFTS WILL GO TO NEEDY

Merchants Sponsor Community Musical Event With Many Features Planned

Upland's community Christmas program will be held Dec. 11, with the intersection of Ninth street and Second avenue the scene of several hundred singers uniting in yuletide carols.

Archie L. Moore was last night chosen the musical director for the program, with every singing organization in the city expected to participate.

This will be the first program of its kind ever presented here. It is being planned under the direction of the business men's division of the Upland chamber of commerce, with Miss Lillian Harnish chairman of the committee in charge. Rather than have a "Christmas opening" of the usual commercialized type, the committee planned a community program expressing the spiritual phase of the Christmas season.

And so more than 20 persons met last night to make plans for the community Christmas program. A group of singers will approach the intersection from both east and west and another group on Second avenue from both north and south. Each group will sing a different carol. With the groups united at the intersection several Christmas songs will be presented under the direction of Mr. Moore.

Fred W. Wilding, veteran band leader of the community, will be the trumpeter, signaling the start of the singing groups in their procession to the intersection.

This community program will also provide an opportunity for the giving of food, clothing and money to the needy. All persons who care to have been asked to bring some gift for their fellow citizens in need. A procession will be formed after the general musical program, leading past a large truck, where the gifts will be distributed to needy families be distributed tnon eedy families by the city's welfare committee.

PUBLIC IS OFFERED TICKETS TO DANCE

Junior Welfare League Begins Working for Benefit Dance, Dec. 16

Distribution among the members of the tickets of admission to the welfare benefit dance to be held at the Red Hill Country club on the evening of Dec. 16, was made during a meeting held Friday afternoon by the newly organized Junior Welfare League in the headquarters on East Ninth street.

The public dance is planned as the major welfare benefit project of the holiday season, the object being to raise funds with which to purchase the supplies for the Christmas baskets for those in need.

The preparation and distribution of the baskets has been placed entirely in the hands of the Junior Welfare League by the City Welfare committee, and it is estimated that at least $700 will be required for the work.

To raise this fund the League members are putting on an intensive ticket selling campaign with the promise that the dance at the Country club house will be well worth more than will be asked for the tickets.

Another important step taken at the meeting Friday, at which the president, Mrs. Walter Welge, presided, was the adoption of the constitution presented by the committee, Mrs. Bruce Beardsley, Mrs. Dudley Phillips and Miss Clara Lou Nisbet.

Plans for filling the number of Thanksgiving baskets the Welfare League is to supply, also were made, as were plans for selling $50 worth of Christmas seals.

Another meeting of the group will be held on Friday, Dec. 8.

Silver Link Lodge Holds Nomination Plans for Dinner

Second nomination of officers was held Friday night by Silver Link Rebekah lodge when the members and several guests gathered in the I. O. O. F. hall. The election will be held at the next meeting, which will be on Friday, Dec. 8.

The meeting opened with a contributed dish supper, a large number of members and several guests from Claremont being present.

Following the supper the lodge meeting was held with Mrs. J. F. Haddow, noble grand, presiding, and the nominations and other business matters were given attention.

A special guest during the lodge meeting was Mrs. Laura Hemingway of Pomona, district deputy president, who was accompanied by several members of the Pomona lodge.

Plans were made to hold a family Thanksgiving dinner at the lodge hall Thursday, the members remembering the success of the dinner held on last Thanksgiving day. It will be an informal noon day dinner with those members who care to, bringing their families and their Thanksgiving dinners. This arrangement provides an opportunity for a pleasant social meeting.

Wayne Jenison has been removed from the San Antonio Community hospital to his home at 668 Second avenue. He was taken to the hospital with injuries suffered in an automobile crash last Thursday. He is recovering from a collar bone fracture and several deep cuts about the head.

Many Small Financial Claims Being Settled in Local Court

About 95 per cent of the cases entered in the small claims court end in victories for the plaintiffs. Usually no defense is offered by the defendant.

"I admit owing the bill, and I will pay it just as soon as I get work or some money."

This is the substance of the average excuse offered, according to Judge George R. Crane, local magistrate. During his long service in the local small claims court, Judge Crane's decisions have never been appealed.

If the verdict favors the plaintiff, judgment is entered and the defendant is legally bound to pay the indebtedness when he is able to do so, or the creditor has the privilege of taking certain possessions from the debtor through attachment proceedings.

Number of small claims cases is not increasing, with the number in past months being about the average of normal times. Any case involving $50 or less is eligible to be heard in the small claims court. The institution provides an opportunity for creditors and debtors to present their case before a judge and his decision is looked upon as final.

Various collection agencies bring many of the cases, with a fee being required in each case.

SNOW COMES TODAY IN CANYONS WITH RAIN LIKELY HERE

Camp Baldy District Covered With Heavy Storm at Noon

CLOUDS THREATENING

Drop in Temperature Recorded With First Real Winter Weather Evident

The season's first snow covered the Camp Baldy district today.

Starting at 1 o'clock this afternoon, a snow storm piled up big flakes, with an inch reported within 45 minutes at Camp Baldy. The canyon district received a heavy rain storm during the morning.

Dark clouds hanging overcast were threatening, with the dark streaks in the sky giving encouraging signs of rain here. A light sprinkle this morning was recorded in the residential district, with heavier showers occurring nearer the mountains.

Today's temperatures and threatening clouds are the first real evidences of the winter season. The rainfall records so far this season are below the average. In general, residents and citrus growers are cheered by the black clouds, even though they did not remain long enough to bring rain here today.

The water conservation projects in Cucamonga and San Antonio canyons have been completed to a point where a huge amount of run-off can be handled with none of it going beyond the spreading grounds.

News of Wedding Is Surprise to Friends

The announcement on Monday of the marriage of Mrs. Alice Chandler Canman of Pomona to G. Milton Brown of Cucamonga was a surprise to their numerous friends in this and their home communities, although plans for the nuptial event had been suspected.

The wedding occurred in Yuma, Ariz., on Nov. 18.

For several years Mrs. Canman was office nurse for Dr. J. H. Titus and recently had held a similar position with a Pomona physician. Mr. Brown is a well-known rancher in the Cucamonga district.

CLUB SPONSORING PLAY AS BENEFIT

Business Women Will Present Community Players in Three-Act Comedy

Within a few days members of the Upland Business and Professional Women's club will start a community wide sale of tickets that will give the purchasers an opportunity to see an excellent production of a three act comedy, "Aunt Sophia's Will," and at the same time to aid in the community welfare work.

The play is being sponsored by the club women strictly as a welfare benefit and will be presented in the Upland Woman's club house on the night of Thursday, Dec. 7. by an experienced and talented cast from the Cucamonga Community Players.

The play was recently presented in Cucamonga to an audience that overflowed the Central school auditorium and the performance was pronounced highly commendable and thoroughly enjoyable. It is clean, wholesome comedy, packed with many hearty laughs.

The Upland Business and Professional Women's club does much welfare work, especially among the school children, throughout the year, without giving publicity to such activities. However, at this time it is desired to increase this work and the play is being sponsored as a pleasant emans toward a worthy project.

The tickets are being sold at a very reasonable price. Miss Esther Anderson, finance chairman for the club, is in charge of ticket sales and she is being assisted in arrangements for the play by Miss Florence Armstrong, club president, and other members of the club.

Four Youths Busy; Thefts Recorded

Four youths were busy at local stores early this week with the result that two of the quartet are in the San Bernardino county jail and two others are being sought by Upland police.

Ammunition, bicyclies and tobecco were included in theloot. The bicycles, badly battered and disfigured to prevent recognition, have been recovered, as has most of the loot.

The Roy Creighton sporting goods store lost ammunition. The Robert Weiss & Co. store losing many razor blades, with the Joe Crabtree grocery on East Ninth street and the Carl Palis service station losing tobacco.

THANKSGIVING DAY SERVICE PLANNED

All Churches Will Unite in Mennonite Church for Special Service

Taking for the subject of his sermon, "Thanksliving for Thanksgiving," Dr. Irvin A. Engle, pastor of the Methodist church, will be the speaker at the union Thanksgiving service to be held Thursday morning at 10 o'clock in the Mennonite church.

The Rev. Lester Hostetler, pastor of the Mennonite church, will preside and the music will be supplied by the choir of that church.

In these times of stress when privation in varying degree has entered the lives of most people, when many are experiencing real suffering and there is need for sacrifice on the part of every person, a majority have gained a better understanding of the relative value of things; they have, as a rule, acquired a truer appreciation of blessings they have enjoyed in the past and a clearer vision of the really worthwhile things they may earn for the future.

Because of, and for this new attitude, this new vision the people are better prepared now than they have been for a long time to really give thanks.

Thanksgiving services will be held Thursday in churches throughout the nation and this quiet hour of meditation when true gratitude may be thoughtfully expressed is a privilege that all should enjoy.

Members of all the churches and of no church are cordially invited to attend the service here Thursday.

Home-Coming Day at Church Draws Large Attendance

A large attendance, inspiring services and a splendid musical program, marked the annual home-coming day observed Sunday at the Mennonite church.

Approximately 50 former members of the church came from many southland points to attend the homecoming and at the noon hour a luncheon was served in the church dining hall for those from out of town.

At the morning service, conducted by the pastor, the Rev. Lester Hostetler, the annual welfare contributions were made, a large amount of staple groceries and fruit being received.

The speaker at the evening service was the Rev. D. D. Eitzen of Los Angeles, and the second inspiring sermon of the day was heard.

The musical event was a remarkably successful and very much enjoyed concert given by the Chaffey junior college a cappella choir, S. Earle Blakeslee directing. This concert took on the proportions of a community event when persons from other churches joined the members in filling the church to capacity and many highly laudatory comments were heard after the program.

Homer Chaillaux To Be Here on Tuesday

Homer Chaillaux, state commander of the American Legion, will be in Upland next Tuesday for the December meeting of the local post.

Every ex-serviceman and the general public is urged by the post leaders to attend the meeting. Mr. Chaillaux is in great demand. Arrangements are being made to have the meeting in one of the local school auditoriums to accommodate a large audience.

ONTARIO ELECTION OUTCOME ON SEWER PLANT IS AWAITED

Upland Will Be Affected in Construction of Disposal Plant

$60,000 BONDS ARE SOUGHT

Vote Next Tuesday to Determine Fate of Proposed Improvement

Its outcome likely to have an important effect on Upland, the election to be held in Ontario one week from today on the question of issuing $60,000 in bonds is attracting local interest.

If the bonds receive a two-thirds majority, Ontario will begin immediately the construction of a sewage disposal plant, the plant to serve both Upland and Ontario until at least 1941. Uncertainty about the legality of an option in the contract between the two cities is a point that will have to be eventually cleared up.

As planned now, the proposed disposal plant will be large enough only for Ontario's needs, according to Austin Burt, Ontario city service manager. If the bonds are authorized by the voters and if the plant is built, an issue may develop in 1941 when the city exercises or overlooks the option.

In the contract made about 1917, Ontario agreed to handle the Upland sewage until 1941, when this city exercises or overopportunity to renew the contract for another 20 years. Ontario authorities have expressed the belief that the option is not valid and therefore Upland cannot renew its contract.

At any rate the election of Dec. 5, next Tuesday, will be watched with interest by people in the Upland district.

Odds and Ends of Costume Finery Is Being Called For

A number of elaborate costumes for characters who will appear in the coming Chaffey Extravaganza are being constructed at the Community Thrift shop by Mrs. W. J. McCloskey, who also is making a number of realistic costumes for other occasions.

It is surprising what can be done with a few bits of ribbon and lace, a strip of velvet or brocade, a string of beads, a feather or two, etc., when they reach Mrs. McCloskey's hands. Old dress foundations, odd skirts and blouses are transformed into authentic and historically correct costumes.

More of this material, of any and all kinds, is needed at the Thrift shop, old hat ornaments, belt buckles, bits of fringe, buttons, and other such things.

Mrs. McCloskey will appreciate anything that is brought in.

Brethren Church Leaders Here for Their 19th Annual Gathering

Nineteenth annual Bible conference of the Brethren in Christ church of the Pacific coast will be opened at the local church today. Attracting many of the church leaders, the conference will continue until Friday evening.

In charge of arrangements are Bishop J. H. Wagaman, H. K. Sheets and B. M. Books.

The conference opened this morning. A feature of this afternoon's program was a discussion of "doctrinal errors," as follows: Adventism, by Oscar Rasor; Eternal Security, by Andrew Wenger; Russellism, by Paul George, and Pentacostalism, by H. K. Sheets.

Programs will be held every morning, afternoon and evening, with an evangelistic sermon being delivered in the evening. H. G. Brubaker, president of Beulah college, will deliver the sermon at 7:30 p. m. tonight.

Mrs Fannie Gay and mother, Mrs. Jennie Walline, and her brother, Austin Walline, went to Glendale Monday to attend the funeral service held for a former eastern friend.

The Agreement With Russia

A not unwholly unjustified tradition has grown up both here and abroad that European diplomats are pretty smooth stuff and that American public men are merely so many babes when it comes to dealing with them. In all probability that thought was in the mind of Russians when they sent the shrewd, experienced Litvinoff over to the White House to confer with President Roosevelt in regard to American-Russian recognition.

If such was the case all Americans are hoping that the Russian did not get away with the best end of the bargain this time. At any rate when Litvinoff climbed the steps of the White House he found somewhat of a horse trader in the person of our President. And while Mr. Litvinoff had announced that so far as he was concerned, the negotiations could be concluded within a half hour, he found them extending through some days.

Just how well the United States will fare in the bargain will become known in the not distant future perhaps. At any rate the result of the conference between the Russian and President Roosevelt was that the sixteen-year breach between the two major powers is ended, with the United States said to be on the long end of the deal so far as most of its demands were concerned. Points in the treaty include: Waiver by the Soviet of all claims growing out of the famous Siberian expedition of 1918; a guarantee against official Soviet propaganda in this country; another guarantee against the formation of any group designed to change the government of the United States; fair and prompt trials for Americans erring against Soviet law; guarantee of the free exercise of religious beliefs of Americans resident in Russia. Little mention is made of trade relations and details concerning them remain to be worked out.

The first American ambassador to present himself to the steel-eyed, steel-mannered Stalin will be William C. Bullet, wealthy young Socialite, who has written a sophisticated novel satirizing Park Avenueites and has been the State Department's Russian expert He is said to be one of Mr. Roosevelt's bright young men and was instrumental in bringing about recognition.

Cheap At Any Price

An example of what good farm cooperatives can do is afforded by the cotton parity price plan recently put forward by the American Cotton Cooperative Association.

The plan represents an ambitious and well-considered means of bringing the cotton producer a better income. The great achievement of the association is in bringing the plan to public notice and securing support for it. A great amount of favorable press comment has appeared. Economists and public officials have spoken in favor of it, and the outlook for its enactment grows constantly brighter.

That is the sort of thing the cooperative can do well—and it is every bit as important as the work of buying and selling a farm product. Good co-ops occupy a unique position between producer, consumer and government. On the one hand, the farmer knows that they represent his interests and are working to better them—and government officials know that they are strong, well-informed and aggressive. Cooperative executives have had a hand in the making of practically all farm legislation. They are extensively consulted when efforts are made to solve agricultural problems.

A dozen cooperatives, dealing in as many commodities, are doing similar work now. Their members are getting the best service they ever had—service that, as the old saying has it, is cheap at any price

Undoubtedly the penalty meted out to the heartless kidnappers of young Brooke Hart of San Jose is an indication of the sentiment being crystalized throughout the country against kidnappers—especially such heinous minded criminals as the two who were hanged Sunday night. It looks like it is going to be "hard sledding" for kidnappers from now on and an enraged public sentiment will do more than anything else to stop this worst of all crimes. It is to be regretted that such drastic means are necessary to accomplish the desired result—but there are few who will not agree the kidnappers of Hart were dealt with as they should have been. It is also regretable the law could not take its course—but the enraged citizens of the San Jose community were not taking any chance of a miscarriage of justice in this case. Too often some sheister lawyer is able to free heartless criminals because of some far-fetched technicality and by playing upon the sympathies of members of a jury. However, recent verdicts in kidnapping cases show the growing tendency that the public is insisting upon drastic action in such cases. And public sentiment aroused to the proper degree is the only thing that will get the desired and proper results in such cases.

When it comes to selling most commodities, woman is the deciding factor. She manages the best of all markets, the American home. The administration, in its drive for higher prices, is faced with definite housewifely protest against advancing costs. The housewife speaks through the figures. Department store sales, based on dollar value and not volume, have fallen steadily. Mrs. American had become accustomed to bargains; when they disappeared she stopped buying. To offset this, the government is intensifying its campaign to get more money into the hands of the public. As for business in general, the picture is so mixed as to be impossible to depict accurately. Some businesses are up, some are down, and some are pursuing a sedate middle course. On the whole, industry is substantially better off than it was when the year opened, and heartening gains have been made in employment, wages, working hours, and in profits of many large corporations. The dark spot in the picture still is the farm situation.

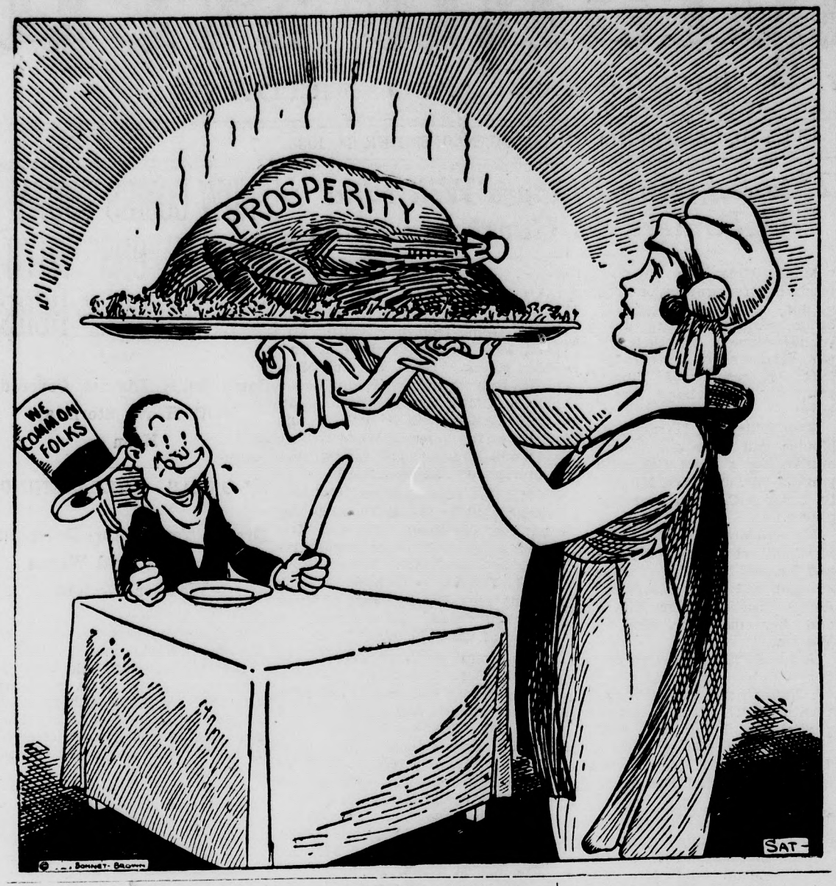

When the government starts weeding out unfair competition—it should begin "at home" by cutting out its own unfair competition against private industry. The latter should be given a fair chance. And in this regard we are thinking of the printer—along with others.

John King suggests—quite appropriately—in the Hemet News: "Now that the movie people are all getting divorces, we suggest that some enterprising person should get out a Hollywood directory and call it "Who's Whose."

This is no year for Santa Claus to take a vacation. You should see to it that he stays on the job and remembers someone who might be overlooked if you don't give him a reminder.

"And now," remarks the San Bernardino Sun, "practically all that remains to be done is to think up a new name for the saloon."

Members of Builders Class Hold Merry Dinner, Program

The Builders class of the Upland Presbyterian church, formerly known as the Young Married People's class, held the November dinner meeting on a recent evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Bealey on West Fifth street, Ontario, and a most remarkable program was presented, remarkable in that one program could contain so much merriment.

Opening the meeting, a delectable three-course ham dinner was served, the men of the class, directed by Ernest Bridenbaugh as chief chef, being both cooks and hosts.

There were many features on the program, each rating a headliner place, among them being the appearance of two talented chorus girls, Ernest T. Stone and J. Harvey Siegrist.

Another escapade in which all attendants were involved was an old-fashioned spelling bee with the words being spelled backward. Several other games were played under the direction of Mr. Siegrist, who was chairman of the entertainment committee.

A business meeting was conducted by the class president, Harold Wilson, and plans were made to hold a hard-times party at the next class meeting on Dec. 15 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Snyder.

Attending the very enjoyable party were Messrs. and Mesdames Stanley G. Marshall, George Hazelgrove, Ernest Bridenbaugh, George Brown, Harold Snyder, Ernest T. Stone, James McCoy, James Hendricks, Marion Brown, Gilbert Cline and children, Paul McIntosh, William Bealey and children, Dr. and Mrs. R. C. Stone, Mrs. Marjorie Jenken, Harold Wilson and Mrs. H. S. Bailey, teacher of the class.

Birthday Party for Star Chapter Is Lovely Event

With the charter members being paid special attention, Upland chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, observed the sixteenth anniversary of its organization last evening when the annual birthday party was held in the lodge rooms in I. O. O. F. hall.

The first event of the evening was the serving of an excellent turkey dinner at attractively decorated tables. A huge inverted cornucopia, overflowing with plenty, marked the officers table and the Thanksgiving motif was used in other decorations, including cunning miniature turkeys busily picking corn.

The charter members were the honored guests, special honor being paid to Mrs. V. H. Wilson, who served the chapter as the first worthy matron. Other charter members present were Mrs. J. Lynward Grahame, Mrs. Helena Monroe, Miss Mattie Pettet, Mrs. Etta Johnston, Mrs. Sarah Redmon, Mrs. Elery Ann Cooley, Mrs. Edw. G. Lutz, V. H. Wilson and W R. Farmer Each one was presented with an attractive favor.

Special courtesy also was shown to the several members whose birthdays come in this month.

At the conclusion of the dinner the attendants retired to the chapter room where a regular session was held with Mrs. Thos. H. Settle, retiring worthy matron, presiding.

In place of a program being presented, the group was highly entertained by the charter members who told of many incidents, some of them quite humorous, of the early days of the chapter.

Mrs. Etta Johnston has the distinction of being the oldest Star in the chapter, from the standpoint of membership, she having joined a chapter in the east 45 years ago.

In closing the chapter session, Mrs. Settle repeated the following beautiful lines:

Friendship is a chain of gold,
Shaped in God's all perfect mold.
Each link is a smile, a laugh, a tear,
A grip of the hand, a word of cheer,
Steadfast as the ages roll,
Binding closer soul to soul.
No matter how far or heavy the load,
Sweet is the journey on Friendship's road.

The Mountain View school club room was the scene of the gathering Sunday afternoon when a bountiful dinner was served at 5 o'clock. The table was beautifully decorated in silver and white and a large wedding bell was suspended above the places occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Walline. A handsome bride's cake was presented to Mrs. Walline.

The dinner was attended by about 60 guests, many coming from Los Angeles and other cities in that district as well as from points nearer home.

Advance Bible Class Entertains With Annual Dinner

A fine turkey dinner and an informal program that was a riot of fun marked the annual guest night meeting held Friday evening by the Advance Bible class of the Methodist church, when they entertained their husbands and other members of their families.

Fellowship hall in the church building was the scene of the special event and 125 members and guests were in attendance.

The dinner was a most excellent one, the menu including all the delicious dishes that should accompany tender roast turkey. Mrs. Charles Dinger and Mrs. E. A. Dart were in charge of the dinner.

In the program that followed, which was a combination of miscellaneous stunts, songs, stories, etc, the members of the audience were called upon to entertain themselves and so willingly and efficiently did they respond that everyone was highly pleased with the results.

Mrs. E. H. Gibson, assisted by Mrs. W. F. Kitchel, was in charge of the entertainment and called for volunteers to tell their favorite stories. If anyone in the audience recognized a familiar story and could correctly finish it, the original storyteller was required to pay a fine by performing some stunt.

Francis Wilson, well known tenor, contributed an enjoyable solo and Mrs. W. A. Getty read an original humorous story in which the characters were members of the audience.

The dramatic talents of the attendants were uncovered when the audience was divided into four groups and instructed to dramatize certain nursery rhymes. Material was provided for impromptu costumes and the skits were presented from the stage, to the accompaniment of hearty laughter.

Wholesome amusement was the keynote of the program and the annual event was one of the most successful the class has yet held, it was stated by Mrs. W. F. Naftel, class president.

A pleasant courtesy was extended to Mrs. Marian Cochran, class teacher, when she was presented with a lovely basket of flowers.

Red Cross Sending Gift Packages to U. S. Soldier Boys

In keeping with their custom of many years, Red ross chapters again are providing Christmas cheer for sick and lonely American soldiers in distant posts.

When the U. S. army transport Grant sailed from San Francisco last week it carried thousands of gift packages to the soldier boys in the Orient, it was announced by A. L. Schafer, Red Cross manager in the Pacific area.

Service men in the Philippines, China, Guam, Samoa, Hawaii and Alaska know the Red Cross never forgets and Christmas joy always finds them with gifts from "mothers, sisters, brothers and dear old dad." who make up Christmas bags for distribution through Red Cross chapters.

Jig-saw puzzles, as well as "house-wives," those handy little kits with needle, thread and buttons, toilet articles and handkerchiefs, were prominent among the gifts selected by the average donor in making up the packages.

Chilkoot Barracks, the one military hospital in Alaska, receives its full quota of gifts as do other hospitals of insular or foreign stations. Signal Corps operators are not overlooked and each knows Christmas joy to the fullest.

Junior Red Cross workers also have a great part in spreading Christmas joy among the boys and girls in Guam, Philippines, American Samoa, Hawaii, Alaska. Thousands of gift boxes contributed by the Juniors in California, Arizona and Idaho will reach their destinations in time for the holidays. George T. Berry director and Miss Charlotte Linfoot, assistant director of Junior Red Cross in the Pacific Area, routed the Christmas gifts to the juniors.

San Antonio Chapter Hears Delightful Travelogue

A travelogue that delighted the large number of members present was presented by Mrs. Glenn D. Smith before the meeting Monday of San Antonio chapter, D. A. R., held at the home of Mrs. George Byron Ford, 515 Mountain avenue.

Mrs. E. W. Henry, regent of the chapter, conducted a brief business meeting and reports of the two benefit dessert bridge parties held last week showed that the very satisfactory sum of $50 was realized. This will be applied to the chapter's contribution to the national Constitution Hall fund.

Mrs. Smith, accompanying Mr. Smith, made a four months tour of the east during the past summer, going by way of the Panama canal to New York on the Santa Paula of the Grace line.

Stops were made at a number of the fascinating towns on the Central American coast and Mrs. Smith told entertainingly of the sights they revealed, also describing the trip through the canal.

A day was spent in Havana, which they found to be a beautiful city, and, at the time of their visit, peaceful enough that they were permitted to go shopping and sightseeing.

From New York Mr. and Mrs. Smith toured the New England states north into Maine by motor, seeing the charm of the countryside and the beauty of the mountains. Many stops were made at the places of historic interest, especially those of Colonial days.

Turning westward along the historic Mohawk Trail, the motorists went to Allegan, Mich., the boyhood home of Mr. Smith, and also visited Mrs. Smith's relatives in Springfield, Ohio.

Two visits were made to the Century of Progress exposition in Chicago and at Fort Dearborn they visited Henry Ford's Edison Institute, one of the most interesting sights of their tour, they said.

A social hour and the serving of refreshments closed the meeting.

Assisting Mrs. Ford was the hostess committee, Mrs. C. C. Hamilton, chairman; Mrs. L. R. Nichols, Mrs. J. G. Roberts, Mrs. W. B. Harvey, Mrs. Emma H. Titus, and Mrs. Caroline Olsen.

Veteran Editor in Talk to Students

Chaffey journalism students were hosts last night at a meeting in the high school library with John E. King, one of the state's leading Democrats and editor of the Hemet News, the speaker. The student organization, comprising prospective newspaper men and women, is the Press club.

Harold Miller, editor of the Chaffey Press, student paper, opened the meeting, after light refreshments were served.

Mr. King traced the development of the printing industry, pointed out the responsibilities a newspaper has in its community and cited the opportunities journalism has for students of today. He was the center of informal discussion following the close of the address.

Breaking It Gently

The engaged pair were talking over the future.

"Darling," she said, "when we are married you'll have a woman in the house who really knows how to cook."

He looked surprised.

"But, dearest," he said happily, "I didn't know you were a good cook."

She shrugged her shoulders.

"I'm not," came her reply, "but when we're married my mother is coming to live with us."

Wednesday night will see the close of the Red Cross roll call. Through the untiring efforts of Mrs. Frank C. Buffington, roll call chairman, and the many women assisting her, the Upland chapter is nearing the goal of 650 members.

The other half will go to the national Red Cross to be spent in various kinds of disaster relief and welfare work throughout the nation, some of it coming back to Upland.

PANTHERS READY TO GREET RIVERSIDE

Chaffey Eleven Will Play on Graber Field Thanksgiving

Chaffey junior college and Riverside junior college will provide a dessert for football fans who will partake of Thanksgiving dinner at noon Thursday.

The two teams will appear on Graber field about 2 p. m. Thursday in the final league football game and in a conflict that will give either one of them a boost in final standings.

The Panthers are well fitted for the occasion with a 10 days' rest and after having pointed to the game for several weeks. Coach Bert Heiser—never very optimistic—believes his team is in better condition—physically and mentally—than usual.

Uncertain who will start at quarter, Smith or Keough, Coach Heiser will open the game with a heavy, fairly fast team.

This closes the Panther grid schedule and a Chaffey victory will place the local eleven in the best league standing it has been for years.

COUNTY IS FACED WITH FEE PROBLEM

Can Treasurer Keep $3323 He Received From State as Commission

Can County Treasurer M. W. H. Williams personally keep commissions paid him by the state for collecting inheritance taxes?

The county grand jury and District Attorney Stanley Mussell say he cannot. A former district attorney, George H. Johnson, said he could. On Johnson's written opinion, Mr. Williams kept the commissions, which since May 20, 1930, have totaled $3,323.50.

The grand jury, through its chairman, Francis P. Williams of Ontario, asked the county supervisors yesterday to make an equitable settlement with the official or to sue Williams for the total amount of fees.

Williams' salary is $3600 a year. Most of the other department heads received from $4000 to $4200 annually. The treasurer's salary was placed under the others due to the understanding that he would keep the fees paid by the state for collecting funds due.

The supervisors' course of action has not been announced.

Dance Halls Licensed

Several licenses were issued by the supervisors yesterday to dance hall operators in this district as follows: To J. R. Wilson, Central avenue between California and State streets, in Narod; J. B. Mountain Road Planned

Work is expected to be started soon on the construction of a new road into the Lake Arrowhead district on the north side of the San Bernardino mountains from the desert. Deeds to right-of-ways are being obtained from property owners for the proposed route into the desert region. This road would make the mountain resort region accessible when winter snows block the present roads.

Christian Science Church To Observe Thanksgiving Day

Thanksgiving day services will be held on Thursday in branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass. The subject of the lesson-sermon is "Thanksgiving." The golden text is from II Corinthians: "All things are for your sakes, that the abundant grace might through the thanksgiving of many redound to the glory of God."

Among the Scriptural selections in the lesson-sermon are these verses from the Psalms: "Unto Thee, O God, do we give thanks, unto Thee do we give thanks: for that Thy name is near Thy wondrous works declare . . . Make a joyful noise unto the Lord, all ye lands . . . Enter into His gates with thanksgiving, and into His courts with praise: be thankful unto Him, and bless His name . . . O give thanks unto the Lord, for He is good: for His mercy endureth for ever."

Passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, state: "If our petitions are sincere, we labor for what we ask; and our Father, who seeth in secret, will reward us openly." "While the heart is far from divine Truth and Love, we cannot conceal the ingratitude of barren lives."

Junior High P.-T. A. and Pupils Present Profitable Program

The very satisfactory sum of $29 was realized Friday night from the entertainment sponsored by the finance committee of the junior high P.-T. A., and will be applied on the purchase price of material for a cyclorama, a curtain needed for the back of the stage in the school auditorium.

The varied program was presented by the pupils of the school, assisted by several of the teachers and the arrangements and sale of tickets were in charge of the finance committee, Mrs. D. R. Kilbourne, chairman.

The school orchestra, directed by Fred Wilding, opened the program with a group of splendidly played selections. The Seventh grade boys chorus, directed by Miss Lysle Merchant and accompanied by Miss Bernice Colton, sang two stirring school songs and the girls chorus, also directed by Miss Merchant, with Dorothy Benson accompanying, sang a group of three numbers.

Two short plays were given by pupils of the ninth grade, Miss Margaret Crosby being the director, and the young actors won the hearty approval of their audience.

The cast for the first play, "Credits For Bill," included Lorene Owen, Gertrude Hamilton, Ethel Graves, Mary Clark, Dorothy Ann Ward, Newton Echols, Verne Maxie, Strother Kipp, James Livermore, John Hinshaw, Donald Walker and Colin Bovee. Those assisting with the mechanics of the play were Reuvena Allen, Harold Salisbury, Elwin Engle, Ethel Malone and Ruth Ward.

The second play, "Dr. Cure-All," was presented by Elsworth Mitchell, Rebecca Mattox, Marjorie Pounders, Katharine Fischer, Rodney Mehl, Ellen Highsmith, Ida Jane Sales, Geraldine Gish, Guy Dwyier, Charlotte Browning, and Emily Draper. Others assisting on the stage were James Seitle, Robert Atwood, Elwin Engle, Roger Mason, Emily Draper, Harold Salisbury and Waldo Owen.

A candy sale held in the corridor also helped to increase the fund for the curtain. When material is purchased the curtain will be made by the P.-T. A. members.

AGED MAN LOST ON DESERT IS HUNTED

Searchers on Trail of J. M. Price, Who Disappeared From Bus

An aged man without food or water, wandering in the desert around Amboy, is being sought by deputy sheriffs and relatives. J. M. Price, retired businessman in the east, was enroute to visit his son in Los Angeles, when he got off a transcontinental bus at Amboy.

He has been tracked up and down ravines of the desert and adjacent hills. Some of his clothing has been discovered. Evidences of where he built a fire and probably remained all night were discovered. Marks on the sand of where the man had apparently dragged himself were noted.

Mr. Price disappeared more than a week ago, the first report of his disappearance being made by the bus driver in Ontario. Since then the man's son, residing in Los Angeles, and county officials have led in the hunt.

Discovery of new tracks and evidence every day has spurred on the searchers, but as yet their hunt has beenf ruitless.

Christening Rites for Burros Bring Peals of Laughter

The christening of the now famous burros at Padua Hills was "an extra added attraction" at the show given Saturday afternoon in the Little Theatre in Padua Hills, and many Girl Scouts and their grown-up leaders are still laughing about it.

A fascinating play, "Pepito," was presented by the popular Spanish troupe attached to the inn and theatre. Upon special invitation from Mrs. Garner of Padua Hills, three troops of Girl Scouts, Mrs. Paul Adams' troop of Cucamonga Central school, the Alta Loma troop and Miss Pittenger's troop of Upland, together with their leaders and mothers attended the matinee performance.

After the play announcement was made that the two burros, recently acquired from Camp Baldy, were to have their names formally bestowed upon them.

However, the air of formality seemed to vanish at the outset when one of the small donkeys had to be pushed upon the stage.

Wreaths and garlands of carrots and lettuce and other succulent vegetables were hung upon their necks and the patient little beasts of burden stood contentedly munching their decorations during the remainder of the ceremony, the burlesque rites being performed amid gales of laughter from the audience.

At last the names were bestowed, Spanish names that few in the audience understood or could pronounce, but the burros knew them, as well as they would know any other names, and probably will never respond to them.

Why Children Need a Liquid Laxative

The temporary relief children get from some synthetic, habit-forming cathartic may cause bowel strain, and even set-up irritation in the kidneys. A properly prepared liquid laxative brings a perfect movement. There is no discomfort at the time and no weakness after. You don't have to give the child "a double dose" a day or two later.

Can constipation be corrected in children? "Yes!" say medical men. "Yes!" say many mothers who have followed this sensible medical advice: 1. Select a good liquid laxative. 2. Give the dose you find suited to the system. 3. Gradually reduce the dose until the bowels are moving regularly without aid.

An approved liquid laxative (one that is widely used for children) is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. The mild laxative action of this excellent preparation is the best form of help for children—and grown-ups, too. The dose can be regulated for any age or need.
